

The Ohio Statesman

WANTRENT & MILLER Publishers.
COLUMBUS, OHIO.

THURSDAY MORNING, DEC. 25, 1892.

S. M. PETTINGILL & CO., No. 37 Park Row, New York, and 6 State Street, Boston, are our agents in these cities, and are authorized to take advertisements and subscriptions for us at our Lowest Rates.

No Paper To-Morrow.

In order that all connected with the STATE-MAN Office may observe this Christmas Holiday, no paper will be issued to-morrow morning.

A Merry Christmas!

We come to our kind readers and patrons on this Christmas morn with the customary greeting—"A Merry Christmas!"

There is a tradition that about this time in the year an anniversary was kept among ancient heavenly nations, in commemoration of the death of the old year and the birth of a new one just emerging from the night of the past into the light, life, and beauty of a new year.

This anniversary of the twenty-fifth of December is also observed among Christian nations in commemoration of what we think of the death of the old year and the birth of a new one just emerging from the night of the past
into the light, life, and beauty of a new year.

We have a record in a book that seems to be venerated as the Jews venerated the sepulchres of the prophets, whose warnings they despised and set at naught—that on a certain day, which tradition has assigned to be the 25th of December, a Divine personage, called the Prince of Peace, was born to our world, and that his advent was heralded by a choir of angels, who sang, in the hearing of some of the earth's lowly children, the glorious refrain—"Peace on earth and good will to men," or as scholars render it, "good will among men."

"Peace on earth and good will among men!" Peace in the United States and good will among the people! Would not this be the glad response to-day were we a nation of Christians and not merely nominally a Christian nation?
Would not peace reign within our borders if a little of those who profess to teach, and of those who profess to practice His precepts, were genuine practical disciples of the Prince of Peace?

We tender our congratulations of "A Merry Christmas!" with subdued hearts and gloomy apprehensions; yet there are signs like the streaks of dawn that precede the sunrise, which we trust will not prove the delusive flashes of passing meteors—giving us hope and faith to believe that, on the return of another Christmas, those of us who may survive the shock of this fearful revolution and civil war, will witness a day of peace and be able to wish each other "A Merry Christmas!" without any mingling of bitterness, save what may spring from regret for the woe that has befallen us and gratitude at the bright hope of the promise of lasting peace and prosperity that shall be seen to span our American heavens.

The Radical Triumph—Lincoln Must Succumb.

The New York Times, an Administration paper favorable to Secretary Seward, speaking of the recent Cabinet snarl at Washington, says: "Beyond all question the confidence of the country in the Administration has been seriously tried and badly impaired during the past six months."

Coming more directly at the Senatorial caucus which substantially demanded of the President the removal of Mr. Seward, the Times says:

"The attempt of a party caucus in either House of Congress, to dictate to the President, in a matter so personal to himself as the retention or removal of his Constitutional advisers, is novel and suspicious. That the movement in this case originated with a section of the party and aimed at a factional triumph over the rest, makes it all the worse."

The Times may call the originators of the movement for the removal of Seward a section of the party; but it is evident that they constitute a section so powerful that they rule the party, and are determined to shape the course of the Administration to their liking or break it down. The Times may speak of these men aiming at "a factional triumph," but it is clear that they obtained a decided and signal victory, when in the Senatorial caucus, on the night of the 17th inst., a resolution was carried, declaring that the welfare of the country would be promoted by the partial reconstruction of the Cabinet—twenty-eight of the twenty-nine Republican Senators present voting for it.

The Times in the same article from which we have quoted above, draws the following truthful and doleful picture of the condition of its party:

"The Administration party suffers from the rage and rancor of factions within its bosom.
It has been torn and weakened by intestine dissensions—conflicts springing far more from personal ambition than from public principle, and aiming to gratify personal hatreds at whatever cost to the Administration and to the country."

The Times adds that the Administration "cannot afford longer to encourage or tolerate these fatal dissensions." What will it do? or rather what will or can President Lincoln do?
The Times says he will "have to form a new Cabinet." So say those whom the Times calls the factionists in its party, that is to say—the extreme radicals. They say Lincoln must form a new Cabinet or resign. That is the Abolition hat—the one that has gone forth, and we suppose, like the laws of the Medes and Persians, cannot be altered or "modified."

But the Times says Mr. Lincoln "must first fix the principles on which he will conduct his Administration." This is a pretty plain insinuation that he has not hitherto conducted it upon any fixed principles. Just so the extreme radicals charge. The Times falls right into their views and sings the same song. This shows, if proof were needed, that the so-called Republican, alias Union, alias Administration party is bound hand and foot and delivered over irretrievably to the Abolition Disunion Demon.

Death of an Editor.

Hon. ELMER CASE, editor of the Portland (Me.) Advertiser, formerly editor of the Eastern Argus, and Cincinnati Enquirer, died at Portland, Me., on Sunday night, aged sixty-six years.

MISCELLANEOUS NEWS.

The Washington Republican, Abolition, calls for the immediate removal of Gen. Burnside.

Official orders are public that, by direction of the President, General Schenck is appointed to the command of the Middle Department and Eight Army Corps, headquarters Baltimore.

A DISPATCH from Lexington, Ky., reports that Humphrey Marshall and Floyd had passed through Pound Gap from Western Virginia, and were making for Central Kentucky. It is also stated that Morgan's guerrillas are in the vicinity of Lexington.

A LETTER received at Nashville from a slave-trader says he is buying negroes in Richmond for $1200 and $1300, and selling them in Georgia and Alabama for $1500 and $1600.

The New York Tribune says that the interest of Mr. Thurlow Weed in the Albany Evening Journal has been purchased by the Hon.
Henry H. Van Dyck, formerly of the Albany Adelphi, who will assume the editorship thereof in a few days.

Gen. FORT has reported to the General-in-Chief that he had burned the railroad bridge at Goldboro, and destroyed several miles of track. His expedition was a splendid success.
He met the enemy at four points, and whipped him handily each time. Having accomplished the object of his advance, he was falling back.

The Louisville Journal says that many of the leading citizens of that vicinity are apprehensive of a negro outbreak, and agrees with them that steps should be taken to repress the slightest display of insubordination. It recommends the organization of a patrol in the country districts for service during the ensuing two weeks.

Hon. CALES B. SMITH having been confirmed as U. S. District Judge in Indiana, the Secretary for the Department of the Interior is now vacant. A nomination is not thought likely to be made till the Senate reassembles after the holidays. Meantime the business of the Department remains in charge of Assistant Secretary Usher.

It is stated that Emerson Etheridge and some other Tennesseans waited on the President on the morning of the 23d inst. and presented a petition signed by Gov. Johnson and other leading citizens of the State, asking that Tennessee be exempted from the effects of the emancipa-tion proclamation. It is said they are not without sanguine hopes of having their request granted.

A WASHINGTON dispatch to the Cincinnati Gazette says that Burnside's report continues to be regarded as an Administration necessity, rather than simply as a military statement.

PRESIDENT BARNES, of the negro Republic of Liberia, who has recently been on a visit to London, has negotiated with Minister Charles Francis Adams a commercial treaty with the United States, placing the citizens of Liberia on a footing with the citizens of the most favored nations. A Washington dispatch says the treaty has arrived there, and will come up for confirmation in the Senate immediately after the holidays.

The Case of Dr. Olds—Letter from Hon. S. S. Cox.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES,
WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 22, 1892.

MA. EDITOR—Justice requires that a statement should be made as to the memorial in Dr.
Olds's favor. The memorial as published in the Ohio Statesman and Cincinnati Enquirer, was the first draft, and was signed at Columbus.
Afterwards, the names of Messrs. NOLLE and MORAN were added to the memorial, and Messrs.
BLISS and FORTUNE, members elect, authorized their names to be added. Every member elect, and member of the present Congress, who are Democrats, united in the petition.

On the morning I sent the memorial to the President, but after I sent it, I was informed by Judge Advocate TURNER, that Dr. Olds was ordered to be unconditionally released. Distressing this, I inquired again and again, and became satisfied that the order had been made.
Supposing that Dr. Olds was out, I wrote the same day to the President, informing him that Dr. Olds was released and that he need take no action in the matter. Yet Dr. Olds was held for a fortnight afterward. I do not understand this.

As soon as I learned that he was still retained, I, at once, wrote to Col. TURNER, who assured me that he would be released immediately; and following this, he was released. Justice to the President requires that I should make this statement.

Yours, etc.,
S. S. COX.

Had General McCLELLAN been in command at Fredericksburg, no order from Washington, no pressure on the part of the people, could have forced him to attack the rebel fortifications, except through scientific advances and under the cover of counter fortifications. This might, to be sure, have given the rebel forces a chance of escaping by retreat; but it is not so bad to risk the retreat of an enemy as to make a terribly hazardous attack upon him, and be compelled, amid awful carnage, to retreat ourselves.

The Journal's Falsehood About Dr. Olds

The Journal's statement of Monday morning, that Dr. Olds was greeted with a storm of groans and hisses upon his arrival at Zanesville, is an infamous falsehood, manufactured out of whole cloth. We have the highest authority for this statement. It is in the hands of the "Editor in Chief" of the Journal to state that the falsehood was perpetrated by his local editor.

For Lieutenant-Governor.

Hon. LAWRENCE L. GORNEY, of Gorcey county, is named as a candidate for Lieutenant-Governor. He has served, with fidelity and efficiency, in both branches of the Legislature of Ohio, as well as in the House of Congress, and is, therefore, experienced as a parliamentarian. He is a sound Democrat and an accomplished speaker, and has many friends throughout the State.

The Morals of Washington.

The notorious Parson BROWNLOW, in a letter to the Cincinnati Gazette, thus describes what the National Capital has become under Abolition rule:

"Washington, as a city, has no more charms for us than in former days. It is a fearful place! The population is said to be double what it was when the war broke out. Speculators and retailers have multiplied at a fearful rate, and all trades and professions are living and flourishing at the expense of the Government. And every variety of institution is being run here. There are five theaters, three monks, one circus, one negro minstrel company, one hundred houses of doubtful utility, and an indefinite number of liquor shops, to say nothing of about fifty gambling halls, all in full blast, and all doing a profitable business! Frequenting, the practice of medicine, of the law, are absolute ideas, if not regarded as humbugs!"

The Speakership.

Hon. S. S. COX—Our Ohio contemporaries, with but two exceptions, are urging the election of Hon. S. S. Cox to the Speakership of the next Congress. Mr. Cox would make an excellent Speaker, and his election would be a well-merited compliment to a fearless Democrat.—Washington (Pa.) Review.

FOR SPEAKER.—Hon. S. S. COX, of this State, is favorably mentioned in connection with the Speakership of the next United States House of Representatives. Mr. Cox, provided the Democrats are the controlling element in the next Congress, would make a very good Speaker.
He has had considerable experience, is a ready debater, has a good voice, and commands the respect of even his enemies. This State is entirely entitled to the post, and we consider Mr. Cox more capable of filling it with honor and dignity than any other man at least, who has yet been spoken of in connection therewith.—Standard.

Col. Hildebrand, of the Seventy-Seventh Ohio, is a New Character.

We find the following article in the Bloomington (Ill.) Statesman of December 19th. We regret to find Col. HILDEBRAND in the new character here given him. He used to be a Democrat; but since he sought favors from this Administration, and received a commission from the Governor of Ohio, he seems to have forgotten the lessons of the past, and the honest convictions of the best years of his life. Here is the article:

DIMM'S TAKE HIM.—On the 5th inst. a Lieutenant with a squad of men visited Jerseyville for the purpose of arresting the editor of the Jerseyville Union Democrat, for the editor's command at Alton. On entering the editor's sanctum, the Lieutenant said: "Sir, you are my prisoner."

Editor.—"Have you a warrant for my arrest, Lieutenant?"

Lieutenant.—"I forgot to bring them, sir, but I am directed by Col. Hildebrand, who has orders from Gen. Curtis, to arrest you, and I must do it."

Editor.—"If you have a warrant from even a justice, sir, I will quietly submit; but if, as you say, you have no papers, I will resist this illegal arrest to the last!"

About this time the friends of the editor entered the lists, and informed Lieut. Jones that no arrests could be made in that place, "without papers." At the news of this, the people became excited, and the Union says:

"Every road and lane resounded with the tramp of the yeomanry of Jersey, from the old veteran of eighty years to the lad of a dozen summers. They came from every hamlet; every hill and dale were alive with preparations; and by scores and hundreds they manifested the strongest determination to maintain the authority of the Constitution, which declares that no person shall be arrested without due process of law."

The Lieutenant and his squad returned to Alton without their victim. The time for illegal arrests in Illinois has gone by. The people submitted for a long time, for the sake of avoiding strife in the North, but the feeling is becoming strong and general that it is not patriotism, but rather cowardice to longer acquiesce in such usurpation.

The Killed and Wounded in Ohio Regiments at the Battle of Fredericksburg.

There were but two Ohio regiments—the Fourth and Eighth—engaged in the battle at Fredericksburg, Va., on the 13th inst. A correspondent of the Cincinnati Gazette, writing from Falmouth, Va., under date of Dec. 12th, gives the following as a correct list of killed and wounded in the two Ohio regiments, forming part of Gen. KIMBALL's corps and Gen.
FARMON's division:

FOURTH REGIMENT OF O. V. I.

Killed—Lieut. Wm. Brighten, Co. E; Corp.
G. B. Torrence, Co. C; Corp. G. D. Robb, Co. F; Daniel Hunter, Co. E; Thos. T. Brant, Co. G; B. Walker, Co. H.

Wounded—Lieut. Col. J. H. Godman, right leg, badly; Capt. Jas. Wallace, Co. F, knee, badly; Lieut. Jas. Ferguson, Co. I, arm, badly; Lieut. J.
R. Richard, Co. K, side, badly; Serg. G. O. Hill, Co. A, mouth, badly; Corp. J. Wolcott, Co. B, arm, badly; Serg. O. L. Stoughton, Co. B, head, slightly; Serg. Geo. B. Brady, Co. B, head, slightly; Chas. Berger, Co. B, arm, badly; Corp.
N. H. Conner, Co. C, side, slightly; W. McCalllough, Co. C, side, badly; J. C. Carter, Co. D, hip, badly; M. McCann, Co. D, foot, slightly; Henry Beater, Co. D, head, slightly; A. Dice, Co. E, arm, slightly; F. Sell, Co. F, arm, and leg, badly; S. S. Sylvester, Co. F, leg, severely; P. B. Hane, Co. F, leg, slightly; L. D. Hane, Co.
F, missing; Corp. "Thomas" W. Co. G, arm and leg, badly; W. Jamieson, Co. G, arm and leg, amputated; Daniel Griner, Co. G, side and Samuel Griser, Co. G, head, slightly; J. S.
Philbrick, Co. G, hand, slightly; Fred Beck, Co. G, hand, slightly; J. P. Crowfoot, Co. H, arm, badly; N. Durfee, Co. H, hand, slightly; P. A. Carr, Co. I, side, slightly; T. Plank, Co. I, slightly; T. McCulloch, Co. K, leg, badly; A. Craig, Co. K, head, slightly.

The Fourth regiment went in with 95 men and came out with 48.

EIGHTH REGIMENT OF O. V. I.

Killed—Sergeant-Major Eugene C. Hawthorne; Corp. Stephen Hinkley, Co. E; Christian Auman, Co. D; Dr. J. M. Mott, Co. F; Robert C. Berger, Co. H; Jeremiah Schwartz, Co. K.

Wounded—Wilbur F. Price, Co. K, ankle, slightly; Henry Bissman, Co. A, leg, severely; Corp. Charles Wiley, Co. B, side, severely; Corp. Jas. Kelly, Co. B, hand, slightly; J.
C. Carter, Co. B, head, slightly; J. E. Rogers, Co. B, leg, severely; Martin Walden, thigh, severely; Serg. F. S. Barnett, Co. D, leg, severely; Casper Rhoner, Co. D, arm, slightly; Jas. Tisdale, Co. D, foot, slightly; Joseph De-walt, Co. D, ankle, slightly; Serg. L. V. Mc-Kinnon, Co. E, head, slightly; Serg. F. W. Forster, Co. E, head, slightly; Corp. Wm. Lisle, Co. E, head, severely; Sam'l Cheney, Co. E, head, slightly; Charles Taylor, Co. F, arm, seriously; Peter Bowler, Co. G, leg, seriously; Wm. Jacobs, Co. G, arm, and leg, severely; H.
C. Conner, Co. H, hand, slightly; C. W. Mc-Culloch, Co. H, hand, slightly; Leavitt Eaton, Co.
H, thigh, slightly; Chas. Levitt, Co. H, arm, slightly; M. H. Keith, Co. H, foot, severely; Serg. G. A. Groot, Co. I, neck, severely; A. O.
Greenfield, Co. I, hand, severely; Chas. Fairley, Co. I, arm, severely.

Speech of Hon. S. S. Cox.

The Washington correspondent of the New York Journal of Commerce, writes of Mr. Cox's late speech in Congress as follows, under date of December 16th:

The character of parties was yesterday discussed at length by the Hon. S. S. Cox, in the House of Representatives, and even those who oppose him in politics were fascinated by the ability and wit he displayed in dissecting the facts of history. So plain was the up-to-date view he has been able to give of the situation that he has been called upon to give the most eloquent and powerful of all his speeches, and the effect of war upon all kinds of productive interests; estimated the public debt at $1,000, 000,000, of course did not forget the slavery question and the habeas corpus difficulty, and gave it as his opinion that one hundred and fifty thousand of the best youth of the country had been killed on the battle-fields of this war, and that nearly the same number had died of disease. He defended McClellan, blamed the President, and spoke of Burnside as one who would have been soon "brought to the stone of Jaeger." He said that war alone would never unite this nation—the eagle must be dove, the sword must be plowshare, and the up-to-date view he has been able to give of the situation that he has been called upon to give the most eloquent and powerful of all his speeches, and
the effect of war upon all kinds of productive interests; estimated the public debt at $1,000, 000,000, of course did not forget the slavery question and the habeas corpus difficulty, and
gave it as his opinion that one hundred and fifty thousand of the best youth of the country had been killed on the battle-fields of this war, and that nearly the same number had died of disease. He defended McClellan, blamed the President, and spoke of Burnside as one who would have been soon "brought to the stone of Jaeger."

The Logan county Cause is responsible for the following paragraph:

In old Democratic days we had a distribution of surplus revenue among the States. Black Republicans proposed to distribute surplus moneys among the States.

Rumored Change in the Cincinnati Post-Office.

The Cincinnati Enquirer of Tuesday says: We understand, from a gentleman direct from Washington, that an immediate change in the Cincinnati Postoffice is contemplated, and rumor has it that the new appointee has been selected to fill the place of Mr. Baum. It is alleged that a discrepancy between the senior department at Washington and the junior department in Cincinnati is the immediate cause, and that "as figures won't lie," so this rumor may have some plausibility of truth.

The Lebanon Citizen says: Hon. S. S. Cox made an able speech in the House on Monday last, on the character of parties. He skinned the Abolitionists, as usual.

THE OLD VERMONT COUGH REMEDY.

N. H. Down's Balsamic Elixir is warranted for Coughs, Colds, and all diseases of the Throat, Chest and Lungs. This standard Artic has been used in New England and New York with universal success for over thirty years. Eastern people will be very glad to find it in Ohio. For sale by G. ROBERTS and Druggists in Columbus. D. S. Barnes, 802 Broadway, N. Y., and John F. Henry & Co., Waterbury, Vt., General Agents.

MARRIED.

On Wednesday, December 24th, at the residence of the bride's father, by the Rev. Dr. Hays, Hon. F. J. Dickman, of Cleveland, and Miss ANNE E. Natt, only daughter of Robert Bell, Esq., of this city.
Mr. DICKMAN is a member of the Ohio House of Representatives from Cuyahoga county, and is an efficient and industrious legislator. But he has done nothing so commendable since he assumed the duties and responsibilities of public life, as he did on yesterday, according to the foregoing announcement. The gentleman from "Cincinnati" is all right now. We congratulate him on his happy marriage, and wish them all the happiness and enjoyment that married life can bring.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

NAUGHTON HALL.

Positively for Two Nights Only!

MONDAY & TUESDAY, DEC. 29 & 30.

ARLINGTON, LEON & DONNIKER'S

From 555 Broadway, New York.

Excelsior Troupe of the World.

Will have the honor of appearing before the citizens of Columbus in all their new and original style of

Ethiopian Minstrelsy;

and challenge the profession to compete with them.

Shows open at 7 o'clock. Tickets for reserved seats for sale at Mr. John Sel-ter's Music Store on Saturday, Dec. 27th.

Dec 28-30-31.

Master Commissioner's Sale.

Victor L. Allen, Assignee, etc., Common Pleas Court of Franklin county, Ohio.

A. J. Moore et al., Ohio.

IN PURSUANCE OF AN ORDER OF the said Court to be directed, I will offer for sale at public auction at the door of the Court House in the city of Columbus, Ohio, on Saturday, the 29th day of January, A. D. 1893, at one o'clock, P. M., the following described real estate, situated in Franklin county, Ohio, to wit:

A lot of ground, with the improvements thereon, in the town of Reynoldsburg, adjoining at the southeast corner of lot (14); thence with the south line of said lot 18 1/2 feet; thence east 34 feet; thence north 12 1/2 feet; thence south 12 1/2 feet, to the place of beginning, containing more or less.

Appraised at $1350 00.

G. W. HUFFMAN, Sheriff and Special Master Commissioner.

Printer's fees $5 00.

dec 28-30-31

Notice.

OFFICE OF COLUMBIAN MACHINE MANUFACTURING CO., COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 24, 1892.

THE ANNUAL MEETING OF THE

Stockholders of this Company for the election of Directors, will be held at their office on Monday, January 5, at 10 o'clock, A. M.

By order of the Board,
FRED. D. JONES,
Secretary.

Cincinnati Law and Collection Office.

RE-ESTABLISHED A. D. 1890.

THOMAS POWELL,

Attorney at Law,

AND

COLLECTION OFFICE,

NO. 9 MARION TEMPLE,

CINCINNATI.

Remittances in all cases made immediately on the collection of any claim.

The following references are given by permission of the parties, with whom Mr. Powell has for many years been acquainted:

Longworth & Wright, Esq.

Samuel N. Pike, Esq.

Joseph B. Smith, Esq.

W. B. Smith & Co.

Baker & Von Phul.

T. J. Davidson & Co.

Hon. W. B. Caldwell, Ex-Chief Justice, State of Ohio.

D. W. Corwin, late King, Corwin & Co., N. Y.

Clark, West & Co., 121 and 123 Duane St., N. Y.

Wm. H. Powell, Esq., No. 45 East 22d St., N. Y.

dec 28-30-31

DENNISON HOUSE,

Fifth St., between Main and Sycamore,

CINCINNATI, OHIO.

CORBIN GALLERHER, Proprietor.

JOSEPH F. FERRIE.

THIS HOTEL HAS BEEN REPAIR-ED and refitted throughout, and is now open to the public. The proprietors, recently of the Oddfellow Hall, Mayville, Ky., solicit the patronage of the traveling community. No pains will be spared to give satisfaction to the guests of the House.

Dec. 21, '92-30.

CORBIN GALLERHER,
JOSEPH F. FERRIE.

JOHN KEBLER, JERRY C. WHITMAN, MARKING & FORCE.

KEBLER, WHITMAN & FORCE,

Attorneys & Counselors at Law,

Office, No. 11 Masonic Building,

Cincinnati, Ohio.